

The Daily Gazetteer.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1744.

Yesterday arriv'd a Mail from France.

Madrid, January 20.

HIS Day the Court is in grand Gau, on account of its being the Anniversary of the Birth-day of the King of the Two Sicilies. Whatever may be reported in France, as to the Marriage of the Infanta Maria Theresa with the Dauphin, it is certain it will not speedily take Effect; since we are, even of the most distant Preparations for it. We may, perhaps, be better informed, after the arrival of the Comte Montijo, who is expected from the beginning of next Month; and who is, in probability, perfectly well acquainted with the Sentiments of his most Christian Majesty, in relation to that marriage. There have arrived here, within these few days, no less than three Couriers from Paris, at the Office of the French Minister, the Bishop of Rennes; and likewise sent as many to his Court. His Excellency received Yesterday Morning a Fourth; upon which he immediately repaired to the Pardo, in order to communicate the Contents of his Dispatches to his Son. A Council of State was held immediately upon, at the rising of which, an Order was given to the Infant Don Philip at Chambery, directing him to repair to Lyons, and remain there till such time as his Presence shall be necessary with the Troops. Officers of his Army who were here, are again called for the Army; except the Dukes of Berwick and who certainly set out To-morrow. There is an convoy of Money gone to Toulon, under a strong guard. It consists of 24,000,000 of Reals, which is 100,000 £ Sterling. They write from Barcelon, that as Recruits arrive there, they are immediately sent away into Savoy.

Mail from the Paris Almain, Paris, Feb. 14. Yesterday next is appointed for the Ceremony of marriage, at the Church of Notre Dame, the Colours of the Regiment of French Guards, as well as for the Guards.

It is reported, that the Infant Don Philip set out from Chambery towards the latter end of last Month, going to go to Toulon; and to proceed from thence as far as Lyons, in order to meet the Prince of Orange.

We are likewise assured, that the eldest Son of the Comte de St. George, Pretender to the Crown of England, is arrived in one of the Ports of France. They write from Brest, that the Squadron equipt at Port Saine from thence in the Night between 4th and 6th; and that they had arrested there a man whose Name was Groulou, who had offered to pay for Leave to go out of the Town while a Magazine was on Fire; and who is, therefore, suspected to have been the Author of that Conflagration.

They likewise write from New Brisack, that a Person who deals in Hay had been seized there, on Suspicion of having practised something of the like Nature with a View to setting that Town on Fire.

They write from Provence, that a considerable Body of French Troops are daily expected there, which are to embark on board the Toulon Squadron, which only remains for those Troops, in order to sail. We are likewise told, that the necessary Preparations have been made for throwing Bridges over the River Var, with a view to form afterwards the Siege of Nice; and we likewise of investing the Cities of Moons and Fréjus at the same Time.

A Private Letter from Toulon, dated the 2d of this Month, acquaints us, that M. de Court has received his Instructions, that he has likewise made a general Review of all his Forces; that a Recruit of 2700 Spaniards in three Columns, were arrived in the Neighbourhood of that Place, and that immediately after being embarked, the Fleet would put to Sea; the English continue to insult us, by carrying off small Vessels upon the Coast, and by taking such bound thither with Provisions; that an Engagement was expected by the 4th or 5th, about four miles out of the Road, the necessary Orders having ready given for that Purpose; and that Admiral M. de Court, with his Spanish Squadron, will lead the Fleet in the Rear. Admiral Mathews is determined to wait for us, he hoists his Flag on board the Enterprise, and has actually 40 Sail of Line of Battle Ships under his Command.

We have lately discovered the Secret of making the Greek Fire, which is not extinguished by Water; and an Experiment of it has been actually made at Toulon.

In order to understand this Paragraph, the Reader must observe, that this Kind of Wildfire was invented by one Callinicus, a Greek, Anno Dom. 680. It was composed of Charcoal, Salt, Aqua Vitæ, Sulphur, Pitch, Camphire, &c. boiled together, and rolled up into Balls. With this Combustible Matter, the Emperor Constantinus Paganus, i. e. with the great Beard, burnt a large Fleet of the Saracens, which had blocked him up in his City of Constantinople; as is related at large by the Historian Zonaras.

We learn from Vienna, that, on the 26th of last Month, Field-Marshal Count Khevenhiller died there, of a Fluxion on the Lungs.
